CONGRESS TO CLOSE SESSION NEXT WEEK PARTY LEADERS SAY

Tax Reduction Bill Only Major Work Not Completed

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The seventeenth congress will close its first session May 26 and begin a leisurely trek to the national conventions, under plans finally approved by administration leaders.

The tax reduction bill alone stood as a barrier to the adjournment but administration leaders hoped for its passage in the senate today, a quick settlement of all differences between the house and senate and its final enactment by the end of the week. It was whispered, however, that failure to pass the bill would not delay the adjournment as the tax reduction would be applicable to 1929 payments and could be enacted next December in plenty of time to become effective next year.

When President Coolidge affixed his signature to the flood control bill, it was said, all chance for a summer session vanished. This was the one piece of legislation, according to leaders, which might have postponed the date of adjournment or possibly have caused congress to return to session after the conventions.

The final enactment of the farm relief bill removed another though lesser obstacle to adjournment on May 26. It was quietly but authoritatively stated that the president will veto this bill and that an attempt will be made to enact it over his veto. Farm leaders were said to have agreed on this course because of the hopelessness of any attempt to get congress to make it a law over the president's formal opposition.

The new merchant marine bill also was to go to the White House today, after its final enactment by congress. This action likewise removed opposition to the May 25 adjournment date, as the president was said to favor the bill in its present form.

The Muscle Shoals and Boulder Dam bills, both of which were on the administration's legislative program, were in the background. The Muscle Shoals measure was in conference, with indications it would be reported back and finally enacted later in the week or early next week. It likewise was said to meet with presidential approval.

The Boulder Dam bill was pending in both house and senate, with its chances for enactment at this session doubtful. Senator Johnson (R) of California, was leading a stubborn though apparently forlorn fight to have it enacted in the senate while Rep. Swing (R) of California, was conducting a similar battle in the house. Reports indicated it might pass the house next week but a filibuster, fully capable of defeating it, is in waiting in the senate.

The adjournment of congress May 26 undoubtedly will end with the flood control bill, the farm relief bill vetoed and pigeon-holed in house and senate committees, the merchant marine bill a law, Muscle Shoals operated as a power project and the Boulder Dam bill side-tracked until the next session. These were the prospects today with but nine legislative days remaining before the scheduled adjournment.

ARRAIGN THREE FOR ASSISTING REBELS

NEW YORK, May 17.—Beni Gno Del Rio, 52, and Manuel Mendez, 36, both of Brooklyn, and John M. Berm, 29, of Hoboken, N. J., who were arrested last night by department of justice agents on charges of violating the United States neutrality laws, were to be arraigned today in federal court, Brooklyn.

The men are alleged to have been engaged in supplying rebels in Nicaragua with ammunition. Police said they found 5,200 rounds of .38 calibre revolver ammunition at a Brooklyn haberdashery store operated by Del Rio and Mendez.

MAY EXTEND BARGE LINE OPERATION

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A movement to extend government barge line operation beyond the Mississippi river system was begun in the house today as consideration of the Denison bill entered its final stages.

Rep. Wright (D) of Georgia prepared an amendment which he expected to introduce, providing that experimental barge lines should be established on any navigable river where there was good prospect of success.

THREATENED BY REBELS
PUERTO CAJAZAS, Nicaragua, May 17.—Native in the Pita Pita river district where United States marines are looking for mine raiders, told the United States forces that the rebels and guerrillas had threatened them with death if they gave aid to the Americans.

POLICE QUIZ THREE IN DISAPPEARANCE OF GIRL

Suspects Deny Knowledge Of Mystery Case In Youngstown—Three Who Saw Kidnaping Will View Those Arrested

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 17.—Despite their denial of all knowledge of the mysterious disappearance of 10-year-old Beatrice Rosenbaum from her home here May 14, three suspects were to be questioned again today by local police and three persons who said they saw Beatrice enter an automobile Monday morning were to be brought to police headquarters here to look over the trio.

Mrs. W. C. Vangorder and Mrs. G. Kelly, next door neighbors of the Rosenbaums, declare they saw a car drive up in front of the Rosenbaum residence, pick up the child and drive away.

Several searching parties including police, Boy Scouts and citizens were still continuing their search for the missing child.

Mrs. B. Rosenbaum, father of Beatrice, told police of a mysterious telephone call last night telling him that a light was burning in a vacant house on Lincoln St. Police rushed to the address and found nothing.

Rosenbaum says he has no enemies and no money and can see no reason why his child "be taken from him."

SLAYS IN CHURCH

F. J. Tyrrell, 53, above, attorney and Sunday school teacher of Muhl, Pa., shot and killed Philip Clark, 36, below, a machinist, in the First Christian church of Muhl, a suburb of Pittsburgh, because Clark told friends Tyrrell had broken up his home and Clark demanded that Tyrrell be expelled from the church, according to statements made to police.

ASSISTANT STATE SECRETARY WOULD FILL BEGG'S SHOES

Joseph Baird To Be Candidate For Con- gress.

COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—Announcement that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the thirteenth Ohio congressional district was made by Joseph E. Baird, Bowling Green, assistant secretary of state, here today.

Congressman James T. Begg, Sandusky, who recently weighted in as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, now represents this district which includes Erie, Huron, Sandusky, Seneca and Wood counties.

Baird is serving his sixth year as assistant secretary of state. A graduate of the University of Michigan law school, he served as mayor and postmaster at Bowling Green after spending six years as clerk of the Wood County courts.

His announcement was in response to a resolution jointly adopted by about 350 members of the Wood County Republican central and executive committees and the Wood County Republican organization of women, it was stated.

Declaring that the resolution was "a compliment which I cannot forget," Baird wrote the members of these committees that "I have given serious consideration to your request and have come to the conclusion that, if you who know me feel I should offer my name to the electorate of the thirteenth district as a congressional candidate, it is my duty and pleasure to do so."

It has been at least fifty-six years, it was stated, since Wood County has had a resident congressman.

NATIONALISTS ARE ADVANCING TOWARD CITY; GUARD WAITS

Northern General Dis- appears From Threat- ened City

LONDON, May 17.—Chinese Nationalist (Southern) troops are approaching Peking, according to advices from Shanghai today.

Foreign troops (including American) are guarding the foreign embassies and compounds. This is the ordinary guard, which has not been strengthened since the actual advance upon the city began. The bulk of the foreign troops are held at Tien-Tsin.

It is reported that Soviet Russian troops guarding the Mongolian frontier are being reinforced. This has led to speculation as to whether Russian troops may move through Mongolia to join the Southern army, if Peking is actually occupied.

The whereabouts of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, dictator of the Peking government and generalissimo of the Northern armies, remains unknown. It is reported from Mukden that he has withdrawn from Peking with a large force of picked troops and is on his way to Manchuria.

Attaches of the United States legation in Peking were quoted as saying they did not anticipate any disorders but that preparations were made for any eventuality. Foreign residents of the city were advised either to leave or to remain in their homes.

Tsin and Peking consist mainly of marines who have been on duty in that country for years. They are under orders to do nothing which might provoke hostility of the Chinese but to protect American lives and properties.

In view of the fact that John Van A. MacMurray, the United States minister, recently concluded a settlement of the "Nanking incident" with the Nationalist government it is felt in circles close to the United States legation that Americans are not apt to be molested if they remain in the background, according to advices from Tien-Tsin.

The Japanese troops guarding the Japanese legation and the Japanese compound have erected barricades. These troops, as well as all the other foreign contingents, are under orders to do nothing to provoke the wrath of the Chinese.

A number of foreign residents, chiefly British have left Peking since a dispatch from that city. Advices from Tokyo indicate that Japanese government officials are now convinced that Marshal Chang Tso Lin cannot defend Peking and that the Southerners may be in the suburbs within three or four days. However, the Japanese are hopeful that there will be no anti-foreign outbreaks. Japanese foreign and war office officials were quoted in Tokyo advices as saying that the chief danger is from the Communists who are mingling with the Nationalists.

HALDEMAN PLANS
TOKIO-PARIS HOP
INDIANAPOLIS, May 17.—George Haldean, who with Ruth Elder were rescued dramatically from an ocean grave last summer in their aerial dash across the Atlantic, has in mind a flight from Tokyo, Japan, to Paris, France, by way of Alaska and Iceland, a distance of nearly 12,000 miles, it was learned today.

Haldean confided his ambition to his friends here and has expressed the hope that Eddie Stinson, of Detroit, with whom Haldean recently captured the world endurance flight record at Jacksonville, Florida, may accompany him on the trip.

Neither man could swim. Both were employed as farm hands by Frank Kreider.

CLOSE TO CATCH UP

TWO FISHERMEN DROWN WHILE SETTING TROUT LINES IN RIVER

CIRCLEVILLE, O., May 17.—Pickaway County's first swimming fatality of the season was on record here today following the drowning of two men in the Scioto River, nine miles south of here yesterday.

Both bodies were recovered last night by a searching party. They were identified as Walter Reid, 29, and Charles Nuggesser, 38, both of Turlington, near here.

The two men were in a boat setting trout lines. Reid, who was standing in the small craft, is said to have lost his balance and tumbled into the water as the boat neared the east bank. He came to the surface and grasped the side of the boat upsetting it and throwing his partner into the water.

Reid's father witnessed the tragedy from the river bank.

WHERE SKY THUG DROVE PILOT VICTIM TO EARTH

View of the wreckage of the plane of Harry Anderson, 28, Roseville, Mich., pilot, on the grounds of the Michigan State hospital for the insane at Pontiac, Mich., where it crashed in a nose dive while Anderson fought for his life with his passenger, Clarence Frechette, of Pontiac, whom he claims struck him over the head with a hammer while the plane careened through the air, 2,000 feet up. Frechette, inset left, has been unconscious since the crash, although physicians have been unable to find any injury except a deep cut across the nose. Officers have been guarding him. A note addressed to a girl in Detroit, Mich., found in Frechette's pocket, bore the message, "Death is my postage, sweetheart." Anderson is suffering from a triple fracture of the skull.

JOIN BIG FORTUNES

HORACE DODGE WEDS RICH DETROIT GIRL IN ENGLISH CHURCH

Bride Is Muriel Sisman, Daughter Of Con- tractor

LONDON, May 17.—A romance which began in Detroit, Michigan, united two rich American families today when Miss Muriel Sisman was married at the Bayswater Presbyterian Church to Horace Dodge, son of one of the founders of Dodge Brothers, Detroit automobile manufacturers. The ceremony took place at 2:30 p. m., in the presence of about 200 friends and relatives.

Mrs. Dodge, a beautiful girl of 24, is the daughter of Andrew Sisman, Sr., a millionaire Detroit contractor.

Dodge gave his age as twenty-seven when he filed notice at a registry office a few weeks ago that he intended to marry Miss Sisman. He is a speed boat manufacturer and is the heir to a $37,000,000 fortune. He is the son of the late Horace E. Dodge.

Announcement of the engagement was made in London last month after members of both families had denied the match. Mr. Sisman, at the time of the engagement announcement, said he did not know anything about the wedding plans but would sail from New York for England within a few days.

Miss Sisman came to London from Paris accompanied by her mother. After the ceremony this afternoon she said that she and her husband planned a quiet honeymoon at Honolulu.

It was first reported that the wedding of Dodge and Miss Sisman would take place in Paris. This report evidently arose from the fact that Miss Sisman was a temporary resident of Paris.

Although rich, Dodge has made a career for himself by the manufacture of motor boats. He added millions to the family fortune. When he and his first wife were divorced he is understood to have settled $1,000,000 upon her.

SENATOR JIM REED HAS HAD ENOUGH PROBES

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Senator James A. Reed, now a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, today was voicing an earnest protest against the senate's action in ordering him to conduct an investigation of the New Jersey Republican senatorial election.

Reed protested in the senate that he "did not want to direct any more inquiries," but the senate, by a viva voce vote, ordered his famous "slush fund" committee to probe the New Jersey primary, in which Hamilton F. Kean, defeated former Governor Edward C. Stokes and others for the Republican senatorial nomination. The new inquiry was demanded by Senator Caraway (D) of Ark., when newspaper reporters Stokes charged Kean with using money to win the nomination.

"I don't want to investigate anything," said Reed. "I'm a candi-

YOUNG BANDITS SHOOT DOWN YOUTH DURING DARING HOLD UP

CHICAGO, May 17.—Two youthful bandits were holding up a soft drink parlor early today when William Watson, 17-year-old son of the proprietor, walked in.

"I don't like your looks," said one of the bandits to young Watson, and immediately opened fire, two bullets taking effect in the youth's stomach. At a hospital it was said Watson probably would die.

The bandits forced Merritt Watson, Jr., bartender in his father's place and brother of the wounded youth, and several customers to line up against the wall while they rifled the till of $65.

Finding the persuasion of their guns so powerful, the young desperadoes decided to "have some fun." They put their victims through a series of calisthenics, making them lie down—get up—lie down—

BREMEN CREW TAKES OFF FOR DETROIT

INDIANAPOLIS, May 17.—The three Bremen trans-Atlantic flyers, escorted by George Haldeman, hopped off at 7:35 a. m. from Schoen Field here today for Detroit.

Major James C. Fitzmaurice of the Irish Free State air service was at the "stick" of the big silver Junkers monoplane.

Although the skies had been cloudy early this morning, just before take-off the sun appeared from behind the clouds.

The flyers were undismayed by reports of poor flying weather on the route from Indianapolis to Detroit. A ground fog with possible rain and a "ceiling" of 1,000 feet was the verdict of the aviation weather experts.

Mrs. Fitzmaurice and Mrs. Koehl did not accompany their husbands. They have decided to remain as guests of Richard Kurtz here to recuperate from the strenuous tour they have made.

AUTO OWNERS

His secretary explained that no interviews would be granted the press by the prince while he remained here as he did not wish to endanger in any way the hospital-ity extended him by the Belgian government.

REPORT DAUGHERTY COULD HALT STRIKE BY PERSONAL ORDER

Say Miners Ready To Return To Work If Given Orders

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., May 17.—"Oral Daugherty, militant young leader of the Hocking Valley coal field, who was recently fired from the United Mine Workers, could end the coal strike in this section, by calling a mass meeting and telling the miners to go back to work."

This was the general belief today among authorities, and miners and coal operators here.

Yesterday Daugherty was scheduled to speak at a mass meeting near here but he failed to show up.

When a telegram was sent to him asking whether he intended to speak in the near future in eastern Ohio in regard to the coal strike situation, he replied by telegram: "Would be glad to attend meeting in eastern Ohio in near future providing meeting called by United Mine Workers and I received a written invitation by the committee calling the meeting. Would gladly explain my position and policy of our organization."

And while reports circulated that Daugherty could end the strike a conflicting rumor that Daugherty was "backing water" and siding with the United Mine Workers which "oust" him from their organization was broadcasted following receipt of the telegram.

Ninety-five per cent of the miners in this section were disappointed when Daugherty failed to show up yesterday. Col. Don Caldwell of the Ohio National Guard, said.

Officials of the Lorain Coal and Dock Company said that their men were ready to return to work tomorrow if Daugherty told them to do so.

The local charter of the Lansing union was suspended yesterday by union officials. They charged sympathy on the part of the local union with the "save the coal strike" This it is said was the direct result of a mass meeting which many miners and fifty-one women attended.

Industrious non-union miners at the Virginia Hill mine at Lafayette, near here, picked up 147 nails from the road bordering the mine and brought them into the county prosecutor's office.

At Flushing, about four miles from Lafayette, 650 feet of trolley wire was cut and stolen, reports to the sheriff said.

The mine at Flushing, it was said, will begin operation this summer. The Virginia Hill mine is already under operation.

RUMOR OHIO COAL STRIKE END NEAR

PEKING IS MENACED

CONGRESS TO CLOSE SESSION NEXT WEEK PARTY LEADERS SAY

Tax Reduction Bill Only Major Work Not Completed

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The seventeenth congress will close its first session May 26 and begin a leisurely trek to the national conventions, under plans finally approved by administration leaders.

The tax reduction bill alone stood as a barrier to the adjournment but administration leaders hoped for its passage in the senate today, a quick settlement of all differences between the house and senate and its final enactment by the end of the week. It was whispered, however, that failure to pass the bill would not delay the adjournment as the tax reduction would be applicable to 1929 payments and could be enacted next December in plenty of time to become effective next year.

When President Coolidge affixed his signature to the flood control bill, it was said, all chance for a summer session vanished. This was the one piece of legislation, according to leaders, which might have postponed the date of adjournment or possibly have caused congress to return to session after the conventions.

The final enactment of the farm relief bill removed another though lesser obstacle to adjournment on May 26. It was quietly but authoritatively stated that the president will veto this bill and that no attempt will be made to enact it over his veto. Farm leaders were said to have agreed on this course because of the hopelessness of any attempt to get congress to make it a law over the president's formal opposition.

The new merchant marine bill also was to go to the White House today, after its final enactment by congress. This action likewise removed opposition to the May 26 adjournment date, as the president was said to favor the bill in its present form.

The Muscle Shoals and Boulder Dam bills, both of which were on the administration's legislative program, were in the background. The Muscle Shoals measure, was in conference, with indications it would be reported back and finally enacted later in the week or early next week. It likewise was said to meet with presidential approval.

The Boulder Dam bill was pending in both house and senate, with its chances for enactment at this session doubtful. Senator Johnson (R) of California, was leading a stubborn though apparently forlorn fight to have it enacted in the senate while Rep. Reports indicated it might pass the house next week but a filibuster, fully capable of defeating it, is in waiting in the senate.

The adjournment of congress May 26 undoubtedly will find the tax reduction bill a law along with the flood control bill, the farm relief bill vetoed and piggy-backed in house and senate committees, the merchant marine bill a law, Muscle Shoals operated as a power project and the Boulder Dam bill side-tracked until the next session. These were the prospects today with but nine legislative days remaining before the scheduled adjournment.

Mrs. W. C. Vangorder and Mrs. G. Kelly, next door neighbors of the Rosenbaums, declare they saw a car drive up in front of the Rosenbaum residence, pick up the child and drive away.

Several searching parties including police, Boy Scouts and citizens were still continuing their search for the missing child.

Mrs. B. Rosenbaum, father of Beatrice, told police of a mysterious telephone call last night telling him that a light was burning in a vacant house on Lincoln St. Police rushed to the address and found nothing. #### ASSISTANT STATE SECRETARY WOULD FILL BEGG'S SHOES

Joseph Baird To Be Candidate For Congress

COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—Announcement that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman from the thirteenth Ohio congressional district was made by Joseph E. Baird, Bowling Green, assistant secretary of state, here today.

Congressman James T. Beggs, Sandusky, who recently weighed in as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, now represents this district which includes Erie, Huron, Sandusky, Seneca and Wood Counties.

Baird is serving his sixth year as assistant secretary of state. A graduate of the University of Michigan law school, he served as mayor and postmaster at Bowling Green after spending six years as clerk of the Wood County courts.

His announcement was in response to a resolution jointly adopted by about 350 members of the Wood County Republican central and executive committees and the Wood County Republican organization of women, it was stated.

Declaring that the resolution was "a compliment which I cannot forget," Baird wrote the members of these committees that "I have given serious consideration to your request and have come to the conclusion that, if you who know me feel I should offer my name to the electorate of the thirteenth district as a congressional candidate, it is my duty and pleasure to do so."

It has been at least fifty-six years, it was stated, since Wood County has had a resident congressman.

INCREASE IN HOUSE MEMBERSHIP BEING DISCUSSED IN BILL

Controversy Marks Action; Ohio May Get Three More

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The claims of eleven states for their rightful representation in congress and a counter-movement to enlarge the present membership faced the house today as it took up the Fenn bill to reapportion representatives among the states.

Brought to a vote at the insistence of leaders who say the house is flouting the constitution in delaying reapportionment, the bill met bitter opposition from representatives of seventeen states which would lose members under the bill.

Although the constitution provides for a reapportionment of members of congress every ten years, based upon the census, no reapportionment has been made since 1911. Backers of the bill declare that the result is that the house is not representative of the country.

Because of the wide-spread opposition to a disturbance of the present membership, the bill of Rep. Fenn (R) of Connecticut provides for a reapportionment on the 1930 census. It also provides that if congress fails to do this itself, the secretary of commerce shall apportion congressmen among the states.

The plea of spokesmen for fast-growing states such as Michigan, and California for their due representation was endangered by the fear of members of agricultural states that they will steadily diminish in power as the growth of cities entitles them to new congressmen.

The gains in members of congress under the Fenn bill as estimated by the census bureau are: Arizona, 1; California, 6; Connecticut, 1; Florida, 1; Michigan, 4; New Jersey, 2; North Carolina, 1; Ohio, 3; Oklahoma, 1; Texas, 2; Washington, 1.

Probable losses are: Alabama, 1; Indiana, 2; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 2; Louisiana, 1; Maine, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 3; Nebraska, 1; New York, 1; North Dakota, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; Tennessee, 1; Vermont, 1; Virginia, 1.

House leaders are opposing its enlargement, declaring that a body of more than 435 members cannot function properly.

Advices from Tokyo indicate that Japanese government officials are now convinced that Marshal Chang Tso Lin cannot defend Peking and that the Southerners may be in the suburbs within three or four days. However, the Japanese are hopeful that there will be no anti-foreign outbreaks. Japanese foreign and war office officials were quoted in Tokyo advices as saying that the chief danger is from the Communists who are mingling with the National leaders.

Japanese foreign and war office officials were quoted in Tokyo advices as saying that the chief danger is from the Communists who are mingling with the National leaders.

WHERE SKY THUG DROVE PILOT VICTIM TO EARTH

View of the wreckage of the plane of Harry Anderson, 28, Roseville, Mich., pilot, on the grounds of the Michigan State hospital for the insane at Pontiac, Mich., where it crashed in a nose dive while Anderson fought for his life with his passenger, Clarence Frechette, of Pontiac, whom he claims struck him over the head with a hammer while the plane careened through the air, 2,000 feet up. Frechette, inset left, has been unconscious since the crash, although physicians have been unable to find any injury except a deep cut across the nose. Officers have been guarding him. A note addressed to a girl in Detroit, Mich., found in Frechette's pocket, bore the message, "Death is my postage, sweetheart." Anderson is suffering from a triple fracture of the skull.

Bride Is Muriel Sisman, Daughter Of Con- tractor

LONDON, May 17.—A romance which began in Detroit, Michigan, united two rich American families today when Miss Muriel Sisman was married at the Bayswater Presbyterian Church to Horace Dodge, son of one of the founders of Dodge Brothers, Detroit automobile manufacturers. The ceremony took place at 2:30 p. m., in the presence of about 200 friends and relatives.

Mrs. Dodge, a beautiful girl of 24, is the daughter of Andrew Sisman, Sr., a millionaire Detroit contractor.

Dodge gave his age as twenty-seven when he filed notice at a registry office a few weeks ago that he intended to marry Miss Sisman. He is a speed boat manufacturer and is the heir to a $37,000,000 fortune. He is the son of the late Horace E. Dodge.

Announcement of the engagement was made in London last month after members of both families had denied the match. Mr. Sisman, at the time of the engagement announcement, said he did not know anything about the wedding plans but would sail from New York for England within a few days.

Miss Sisman came to London from Paris accompanied by her mother. After the ceremony this afternoon she said that she and her husband planned a quiet honeymoon.

Dodge's former wife, Mrs. Lois Knowlson Dodge, divorced him last summer. Shortly afterward she was married to Lieutenant Benjamin F. Manning, who was stationed at Honolulu.

It was first reported that the wedding of Dodge and Miss Sisman would take place in Paris. This report evidently arose from the fact that Miss Sisman was a temporary resident of Paris.

Although rich, Dodge has made a career for himself by the manufacture of motor boats. He added millions to the family fortune. When he and his first wife were divorced he is understood to have settled $1,000,000 upon her.

YOUNG BANDITS SHOOT DOWN YOUTH DURING DARING HOLD UP

CHICAGO, May 17.—Two youthful bandits were holding up a soft drink parlor early today when William Watson, 17-year-old son of the proprietor, walked in.

"I don't like your looks," said one of the bandits to young Watson, and immediately opened fire, two bullets taking effect in the youth's stomach. At a hospital it was said Watson probably would die.

The bandits forced Merritt Watson, Jr., bartender in his father's place and brother of the wounded youth, and several customers to line up against the wall while they rifled the till of $55.

Finding the persuasion of their guns so powerful, the young desperadoes decided to "have some fun." They put their victims through a series of calisthenics, making them lie down—get up—lie down.

It was during the "setting up exercises" that young Watson chanced to enter. Before he could realize what was going on, one bandit had spat out his venomous statement and followed it with two bullets.

Young Watson collapsed in front of the door. Leaping over his body the two bandits sped away.

BREMEN CREW TAKES OFF FOR DETROIT

INDIANAPOLIS, May 17.—The three Bremen trans-Atlantic flyers, escorted by George Haldeman, hopped off at 7:36 a. m. from Schoen Field here today for Detroit.

Major James C. Fitzmaurice of the Irish Free State air service was at the "stick" of the big silver Junkers monoplane.

The departure had been delayed more than one hour because of engine trouble developed in the Junkers plane.

Although the skies had been cloudy early this morning, just before take-off the sun appeared from behind the clouds.

The flyers were undismayed by reports of poor flying weather on the route from Indianapolis to Detroit. A ground fog with possible rain and a "ceiling" of 1,000 feet was the verdict of the aviation weather experts.

Mrs. Fitzmaurice and Mrs. Koehl did not accompany their husbands. They have decided to remain as guests of Richard Kurtz here to recuperate from the strenuous tour they have made.

AUTO OWNERS WIN VICTORY

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Income tax payers who drive automobiles won an important victory from the Bureau of Internal Revenue today.

The bureau ruled that damages to automobiles maintained solely for pleasure can be reduced in computing the income tax, if the loss is not due to negligence of the driver.

SLAYER OF DANCER DIES FROM WOUNDS

NEW YORK, May 17.—Horatio Columbus, 35, wealthy Argentine physician, who killed Maria Montero, 27, beautiful Spanish dancer, in her apartment here yesterday, after she had refused to marry him, and then shot himself, died in a hospital this morning.

SENTENCE SLAYER

AKRON, May 17.—Joseph Scapolletti, 35, today faced a sentence of from ten to twenty years in the Ohio State penitentiary for the slaying of Leslie Cuffel, 26, a rubber worker, a year ago. Scapolletti was sentenced late yesterday by Common Pleas Judge L. S. Pardee after the defendant pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge.

SENATOR JIM REED HAS HAD ENOUGH PROBES

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Senator James A. Reed, now a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, today was voicing an earnest protest against the senate's action in ordering him to conduct an investigation of the New Jersey Republican senatorial election.

Reed protested in the senate that he "did not want to direct any more inquiries," but the senate, by a viva voce vote, ordered his famous "slush fund" committee to probe the New Jersey primary, in which Hamilton F. Kean, defeated former Governor Edward C. Stokes and others for the Republican senatorial nomination. The new investigation held last year into the Smith and Vane elections. If Reed and Goff do resign, a new committee may be named to supplant the famous Reed committee which investigated the Pennsylvania and Illinois elections of 1926.

Senator Goff (R) of W. Va., another member of the committee, announced he would resign as soon as it finally reported on the investigations held last year into the Smith and Vane elections. If Reed and Goff do resign, a new committee may be named to supplant the famous Reed committee which investigated the Pennsylvania and Illinois elections of 1926.

"I don't want to investigate anything," said Reed. "I'm a candi-

REPORT DAUGHERTY COULD HALT STRIKE BY PERSONAL ORDER

Say Miners Ready To Return To Work If Given Orders

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., May 17.—"Oral Daugherty, militant young leader of the Hocking Valley coal field, who was recently fired from the United Mine Workers, could end the coal strike in this section, by calling a mass meeting and telling the miners to go back to work."

This was the general belief today among authorities, and miners and coal operators here.

Yesterday Daugherty was scheduled to speak at a mass meeting near here but he failed to show up.

When a telegram was sent to him asking whether he intended to speak in the near future in eastern Ohio in regards to the coal strike situation, he replied by telegram, "Would be glad to attend meeting in eastern Ohio in near future providing meeting called by United Mine Workers and I received a written invitation by the committee calling the meeting. Would gladly explain my position and policy of our organization."

And while reports circulated that Daugherty could end the strike a conflicting rumor that Daugherty was "backing water" and siding with the United Mine Workers which "ousted" him from their organization was broadcasted following receipt of the telegram.

Ninety-five per cent of the miners in this section were disappointed when Daugherty failed to show up yesterday, Col. Don Caldwell of the Ohio National Guard, said.

Officials of the Lorain Coal and Dock Company said that their men were ready to return to work tomorrow if Daugherty told them to do so.

The local charter of the Lanesburg union was suspended yesterday by union officials. They charged sympathy on the part of the local union with the "save the union group." This it said was the direct result of a mass meeting which many miners and fifty-one women attended.

Industrious non-union miners at the Virginia Hill mine at Lafferty, near here, picked up 147 tons from the road bordering the mine and brought them into the county prosecutor's office.

At Flushing, about four miles from Lafferty 650 feet of trolley wire was cut and stolen, reports to the sheriff said.

The mine at Flushing, it was said, will begin operation this summer. The Virginia Hill mine is already under operation.

KEAN BEATS STOKES IN JERSEY PRIMARY

TRENTON, N. J., May 17.—With the tabulation of votes in New Jersey's primary election almost completed, Hamilton F. Kean, former Republican national committee man today was assured of the Republican nomination for senator.

Kean's plurality over his closest opponent, former Governor Edward C. Stokes, was estimated at 15,000 votes today.

The Republican nomination for governor was conceded to state Senator Morgan F. Larson, by a plurality of about 25,000 votes over former Judge Robert Carey.

Twenty-four Democratic district delegates and eight delegates-at-large will go to the Houston convention instructed for Smith and the eighteen Republican district delegates and seven delegates-at-large will go to Kansas City, pledged to Hoover.

CAROL AND CONSORT NOW IN BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS, May 17.—Prince Carol and Mme. Lupescu were in seclusion at the Palace Hotel here today. The Prince declined to see reporters or issue any statement.

His secretary explained that no interviews would be granted the press by the prince while he remained here as he did not wish to endanger in any way the Belgian government.

No inkling as to the future plans of the prince was given out. The prince and his party arrived here late last night from London after eluding reporters and detectives by a ruse there.

SPRINGFIELD SUN PURCHASED BY COX

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 17.—Sale of the Springfield Sun, morning daily, to James M. Cox, publisher of the Springfield News, afternoon daily, was announced here today by Charles L. Knight.

The Sun will continue as a morning newspaper and The News as an afternoon daily with a combination Sunday morning paper to be known as the News-Sun.

Cox entered the Springfield field in June 1908, when four dailies, The Press-Republic and the Sun as morning dailies, and The Gazette and The Democrat in the evening field—were published here.

Charles L. Knight, the retiring owner of The Sun is the publisher of the Akron Beacon-Journal.

READ THIS FIRST:
Lynda Fenton, a singularly innocent girl, is private secretary to Ralph Armitage. Her father, a drunkard, tells her that her mother deserted them, and that all women have their price.
Lynda meets Emily Andrews, who cherishes a secret fondness for David Kenmore, Lynda's companion from childhood. Emily plots against Lynda from the very beginning. David tells Lynda he loves her, but she decides she doesn't want to be in love with any man. David is away on a trip.
Lynda's father, too, deserts her, and Claire Stanhope comes to live with her. Ralph Armitage meets with an accident, and Lynda goes to his home on business, where she is entranced by her innocent charms. Next day he tells her that he loves her.
June Chatter, who has annexed money, throws a jazz party. Lynda and Claire Stanhope attend, and so does Ralph Armitage. But Ralph is still an invalid, and spends the evening on a divan. Emily Andrews has written David insinuating news pertaining to Lynda and Ralph Armitage, and David, worried, hurries home. He arrives late at the party, where Emily subtly leads him to a vision of Lynda's innocent efforts to make Ralph comfortable. He sees Ralph clasp her arm, and hears him curse when others interrupt them.
He rushes in, Ralph rises, then collapses. Lynda spurns David.
Next morning David tries to explain to Lynda that he sought out to protect her. She asks him to marry her. He says that which means most to her, though now she's undecided.
David quits his job with Armitage, and Ralph's father tells his son he has no right to love any woman, and that something else has been done to hush the scandal. Ralph tells him that nothing can change his love for Lynda. The father sends for Lynda, and she expects to be discharged.

CHAPTER XLIX
LYNDA CONFIDES IN RALPH'S FATHER
Lynda Fenton rose from her chair, and standing before Ralph Armitage, senior, she said:
"Thank you for giving me my first job, and all it taught me. I did not know anything about life when I came here. I was just a little girl, who was dependent upon herself for her daily bread. I had the idea that everything would be all right if I did the best I could."
"Now I have grown up, Mr. Armitage, and I have learned that many trifling things over which we have no control may change one's whole existence. It was a hard lesson to learn, but all lessons are good for one, are they not?"
"Good-bye, Mr. Armitage. I'm sorry that I have, even unconsciously, contributed to your unhappiness in any way. I impulsively Lynda held out her hand, and then she drew it partly back. She was not sure that Mr. Armitage would like to shake her hand goodbye.
To her surprise, she felt his clasp on her fingers, and she was gently pushed back into her chair.
"My dear Miss Fenton, I am not going to dismiss you, if, after you hear what I have to say, you decide to remain with Armitage & Son. I went over to the hospital to see my son this morning. I had determined to tell him that I was going to offer you a trip to Europe for some time."

said to me has had the ring of sin—grandchildren to comfort my old age."
Mr. Armitage stopped abruptly. He himself, seemed surprised at what he was saying. His mouth settled into its grave austere lines.
He seemed much relieved when a man came in with a card. It meant that he could get rid of Lynda gracefully. He felt he had allowed himself too much emotional stress before this girl.
"Tell the man to come right in," he said, curtly. "Miss Fenton, I will see you again at four o'clock this afternoon, and then you can give me your decision."
"Did he can you?" whispered Emily Andrews, detaining Lynda by catching hold of her dress.
As though she had not heard, Lynda passed on into the office of Ralph Armitage, junior, and closed the door.
There, secure from the eyes of all the curious girls and men outside, she sat down to think. What was she going to do? Notwithstanding all that Ralph's father had said, Lynda Fenton knew that her days at Armitage & Son were numbered. She determined to go over to the hospital and tell Ralph. Therefore, she waited impatiently until noon, for she would not subject herself to more gossip by leaving until lunch time.
She was just putting on her hat to go out after the clock had struck twelve, when Emily Andrews came in, her blue eyes alight with curiosity.
"I'll go to lunch with you, Lynda," she said.
"I am not going to luncheon," returned Lynda. "I am going over to the hospital to see Ralph Armitage."
Emily gasped, as Lynda hoped she would, but quickly recovering, asked: "Does Ralph's father know you are going?"
"I don't think so. At least, I said nothing about it to him."
"Then he did can you!" exclaimed Emily, realizing that any

CHAPTER XLIX LYNDA CONFIDES IN RALPH'S FATHER

Lynda Fenton rose from her chair, and standing before Ralph Armitage, senior, she said:

"Thank you for giving me my first job, and all it taught me. I did not know anything about life when I came here. I was just a little girl, who was dependent upon herself for her daily bread. I had the idea that everything would be all right if I did the best I could."

"Good-bye, Mr. Armitage. I'm sorry that I have, even unconsciously, contributed to your unhappiness in any way." Impulsively Lynda held out her hand, and then she drew it partly back. She was not sure that Mr. Armitage would like to shake her hand goodbye.

To her surprise, she felt his clasp on her fingers, and she was gently pushed back into her chair.

"My dear Miss Fenton, I am not going to dismiss you. If, after you hear what I have to say, you decide to remain with Armitage & Son, I went over to the hospital to see my son this morning. I had determined to tell him that I was going to offer you a trip to Europe for some time."

"Good-bye, Mr. Armitage."

"Ralph proceeded to show me that if I wished to hush up any scandal concerning him, that would be the last way to do it. I told him, however, that if you stayed here at the office, he would have to go out of town as soon as he was able."

"Although nothing was settled, he made me see that you were an unusual sort of girl. Since then his opinion has been confirmed by David Kenmore, and I have decided to ask you to remain."

"I wish you would talk it over with David. He gave in his resignation this morning."

"I do not want to see David Kenmore, Mr. Armitage," said Lynda, with a sudden spurt of rage. "He has hurt me inexpressibly. He did not wait for any explanation from me. He just made up his mind about it all, and is carrying it all through without any reference to me or my feelings."

"I have found out, Mr. Armitage, that I never have known David. No one could have made me believe that he would spy upon me in such an underhanded manner as he did last night."

"If he were coming to the party, why did he not write me? I would have waited for him to take me, and I know I would have introduced him to Mr. Armitage myself. I never have kept anything from David in my whole life. I wrote him that I had much to tell him when I saw him. As it is, I never want to see him again. He not only was brutal in what he said to your son, but he was ungentlemanly to me. Whatever Mr. Ralph Armitage has said to me has had the ring of sincerity and truth. If I do not believe in his ideas, I admire his courage in living up to them. Whatever Ralph Armitage is, he is not a hypocrite."

"Neither is David Kenmore, Lynda. Are you sure you gave him a chance to explain why he was there that night?"

"Perhaps I did not, Mr. Armitage, but for all that, he might have trusted me."

Unable to keep calm any longer, Lynda burst into tears.

"There, there, child," said Ralph's father, who had the same hatred of tears that every other man has. "Don't cry. Go to your sweetheart and have your mutual explanations."

"That's right, smile. I'm not such an ogre, although that seems to be the opinion of most of my employees."

"You see, my dear Miss Fenton, you caught me this morning, when I was waiting for you. I would have gladly exchanged all the money, all the luxury and power I have for a real daughter and real grandchildren to comfort my old age."

Mr. Armitage stopped abruptly. He himself, seemed surprised at what he was saying. His mouth settled into its grave austere lines.

"What do you mean—'stay'?" Emily asked, when Lynda told her that Mr. Armitage, senior, had asked her to stay.

"I mean," said Lynda, carefully, "that Mr. Armitage intimated that someone in the office has been making him lots of trouble by gossip and scandal mongering, and through it he has lost one of his best men—David Kenmore; that his son has had to go back to the hospital, and he had been put in such a position that he hoped I would help him out by staying here—at least until everything has been forgotten."

Only one thing of all this seemed to have registered on Emily Andrews' mind. "Do you mean to tell me, Lynda, that David Kenmore has left Armitage & Son?"

IF THE sharp, cutting grit that saws so determinedly through rug fibers and shortens so disastrously the life of rugs stayed on the surface, ordinary cleaning methods would remove it.

But this, the most dangerous dirt of all, sinks heavily to the bottom of the rug and clings persistently.

It takes super-cleaning to reach it. This super-cleaning you have in the Hoover. Repeated tests under actual home conditions prove that it removes the most dirt per minute.

"Positive Agitation" enables the Hoover to remove more dirt per minute. It reaches the deeply-buried dirt by the time-tried effective method—beating reduced to scientific exactness.

We will gladly demonstrate to you in your own home that the Hoover does remove the most dirt per minute. Because d.p.m. represents the real gauge of electric cleaner capacity, you should see this test which is an accurate measure of efficiency before purchasing any cleaner. Telephone us today.

THIS XENIA LADY OFFERING PRAISE FOR NEW KONJOLA

"It is Wonderful," She Says: Completely Restored Her Health In Every Way crowds each day at the Gallaher Drug Store, Xenia.

Report after report is being received from men and women of this city, describing the remarkable benefits derived from the use of this surprising new compound. For instance, just a few days ago Mrs. Ed Shaffer, 633 West Second Street, this city, made the following statement:

"Konjola is wonderful," said Mrs. Shaffer. "It has restored my health in every way, and I feel that it is only right to endorse such a medicine to the public."

"My trouble started several years ago and had been steadily getting worse. I was troubled with catarrh in my head and the miseries caused by that ailment were terrible. My head was always filled with mucus and a ringing, buzzing noise. Even at night I was kept awake by these symptoms and I became very nervous. The mucus dripped into my mouth and throat and poisoned my entire system. Finally my stomach became affected and I would have dreadful indigestion pains after each meal. I had no appetite and what I did manage to eat never nourished me right. My sleep was further disturbed at night by rising due to weak kidneys, which became worse as the days passed. Medicine of all kinds had no more effect on me than so much water and I actually despaired of ever being well again."

"That was exactly my condition before I found Konjola, but since I have taken this medicine, everything is different. In a few days I had more energy and seemed to have new feelings of health in general. My appetite is wonderful and I can eat whatever I want without suffering afterward because this medicine has completely ended the catarrhal trouble and dried up that poisonous mucus. My head is free of those noises and I enjoy all-night and refreshing sleep once more. There is not a sign of either stomach trouble or catarrh and for this reason I am glad to tell you that Konjola has become stronger and the night rising stopped so you see, Konjola gave me new health in every way. Nobody ever sees me tired and worn out like I was before. I ended my health troubles and I am feeling like an entirely different person. I gladly endorse Konjola because I know what this medicine will do."

"The Konjola Man is at the Gallaher Drug Store, Xenia, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given."

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a

BOND FORFEITED

Upon his failure to appear in Probate Court Tuesday for scheduled arraignment on a reckless driving charge, the $7 bond put up by Roy Burroughs, Dayton, O., was ordered forfeited to the state by Judge S. C. Wright. Burroughs was arrested Sunday by O. H. Cornwell, county road patrolman, who claimed the Dayton autoist was driving his car in and out of the line of traffic in a dangerous manner.

PLEADS GUILTY IN NON-SUPPORT CASE IN PROBATE COURT

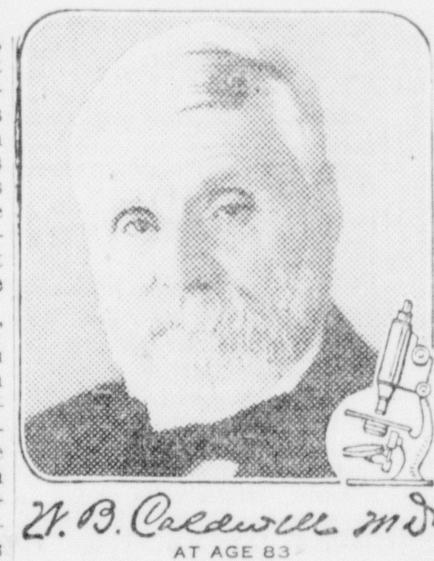

Pleading guilty to a charge of non-support, Merle Spencer, Dayton, O., formerly of Osborn, was fined $19 and costs, a total of $32.20 and sentenced to six months confinement in the Cincinnati Workhouse by Probate Judge S. C. Wright Thursday morning.

The workhouse sentence was suspended, with agreement of the prosecuting witness, upon Spencer's promise to pay $8 a week for the support of his four minor children. He was discharged from custody on his own recognizance.

Spencer was arrested at North Lewisburg, O., Wednesday afternoon by Probation Officer J. E. Watts on an affidavit sworn to by Spencer's former wife, Florence, who has since re-married. She is now Mrs. Florence Rumer and lives at Fairfield.

The former wife charged Spencer with failure to contribute to the support of his four children from January 1, 1928 to March 13, when the affidavit was filed.

The four children are Mildred, 4, Harold, 6, Thelma, 8, and Dorothy, 10.

Practically all the seats for both nights have been taken, indicating capacity audiences.

As was the case last year, a double cast of girls has been selected for the play because of the abundance of talent available and the few feminine roles.

The feminine cast for Thursday night will have Frances Jack portraying the leading part of "Peg"; Dorothy Annin as Mrs. Chichester; Annabella Dean as "Ethel"; and Martha Conklin as the "Maid."

Friday night's performance will see Betty Montague in the role of "Peg"; Gertrude Martin as "Mrs. Chichester"; Evelyn Hunt as "Ethel," and Mary Louise Smith as the "Maid."

The cast of boys remains the same for both nights.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a

BOND FORFEITED

Upon his failure to appear in Probate Court Tuesday for scheduled arraignment on a reckless driving charge, the $7 bond put up by Roy Burroughs, Dayton, O., was ordered forfeited to the state by Judge S. C. Wright.

Burroughs was arrested Sunday by O. H. Cornwell, county road patrolman, who claimed the Dayton autoist was driving his car in and out of the line of traffic in a dangerous manner.

PLEADS GUILTY IN NON-SUPPORT CASE IN PROBATE COURT

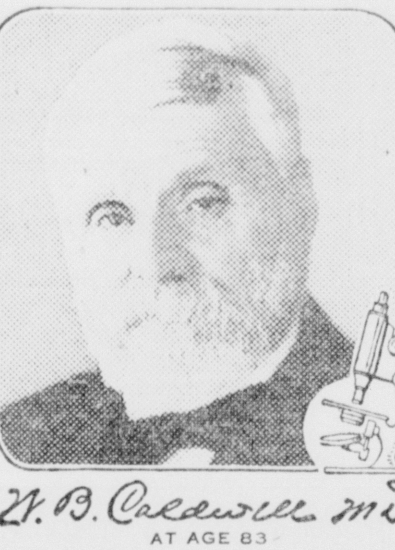

Pleading guilty to a charge of non-support, Merle Spencer, Dayton, O., formerly of Osborn, was fined $10 and costs, a total of $32.20 and sentenced to six months confinement in the Cincinnati Workhouse by Probate Judge S. C. Wright, Thursday morning.

The workhouse sentence was suspended, with agreement of the prosecuting witness, upon Spencer's promise to pay $8 a week for the support of his four minor children.

Spencer was arrested at North Lewisburg, O., Wednesday afternoon by Probation Officer J. E. Vaita on an affidavit sworn to by Spencer's former wife, Florence, who has since remarried. She is now Mrs. Florence Rumer and lives at Fairfield.

The former wife charged Spencer with failure to contribute to the support of his four children from January 1, 1928 to March 15, when the affidavit was filed.

The four children are Mildred, 4, Harold, 6, Thelma, 8, and Dorothy, 10.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE SECRET OF WISDOM—When pride cometh, then cometh shame; but with the lowly is wisdom. Prov. 11:2.

MEMORIAL TO ACHIEVEMENT

The earth's most famous airplane, the Spirit of St. Louis, now joins that "vast collection of the ideas and the works of man" which crowds the Smithsonian Institution buildings in Washington. The silvered shell will be a notable addition to the many objects of scientific interest there protected against time's destroying hand. To this and to future generations it will preserve a record not only of aeronautical development, but of courage and gallantry in its highest sense that has seldom, if ever been surpassed.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh personally flew the monoplane to its honored and final resting place. Probably in his heart there was regret that he must part with the winged mount which bore him to heights of glory attained by few men in history. Over more than 40,000 miles of land and sea; over the plains and mountains of almost a score of nations, it has carried him without faltering. In appreciation of its virtues the Lone Eagle admitted his craft into a partnership famous the world over as "We."

Perhaps another airplane may yet attain a similar distinction. Progress in aviation promises many new and important things. But America, and with it the rest of the world, will be slow to give to any product of the aircraft builder's art the place in the public esteem and affection now held by the "Spirit of St. Louis."

WHY HE NEEDS A WIFE

"Give me another horse; bind up my wounds," commanded one of England's kings in extremities, according to William Shakespeare, but we see no need of such perseverance in horsemanship on the part of the present heir-apparent to the crown. Arent 29 falls in two years enough to satisfy even the most enthusiastic horseman? But he needs no admonitions. Evidently the only thing for the British people to do is to see that he gets married. The prime minister can't stop him, but some people think a wife might.

SOMETHING WRONG

"Every traffic accident is a symptom of something wrong," an authority on traffic problems says. Something wrong with the driver, the pedestrian, the street or highway, the control system, the vehicle, the ordinance, the police department, or the community. In cities, two-thirds of the victims of fatal motor vehicle accidents are pedestrians. Our greatest problem is to define clearly the proper use of streets by vehicles and by pedestrians and the obligations of each to the other."

He urges "an organized campaign of ostracism of the motorist who endangers self and every one through non-observance of traffic signals, boulevard stop signs and the like, and who is generally the same fellow that pulls across the sidewalk, makes elderly people jump out of his way, splashes mud on pedestrians and generally behaves himself like a hog."

He says public officials promote violation of traffic signals, when they put signals "at places where they are not needed, run them at times when are not needed or run them on too long a cycle."

Who remembers, back in his boyhood, when the height of daring was to walk under a horse?

Strange that falls should come in the spring, but that seems to be the time when many spring poets fall in love.

IMPROVING THE BODY

Those who think the race is going backward ought to be interested in this news. In 1914 there were only 1848 students in various schools preparing to teach physical education. In 1927 there were about 12,000 preparing to be such teachers. In 1914 there were only 23 institutions training teachers of physical education and in 1927 there were more than 1,100.

That does not look like deterioration of the race.

QUIT ONE OR THE OTHER

If you are worrying about your job, or the people with whom you are associated in the office or shop, there is one of two things for you to do if you are going to keep your physical and mental health. You must either quit worrying or quit your job. If you can't beat the worrying game there are always other jobs. There is far more contentment in a little job without worry than in a big job that keeps you fretting.

FAVORS

Be slow to accept favors—careful what the favors are and from whom they come. Friendships are sometimes destroyed by the route of favors. It is not pleasant to be under too great obligation. Humiliation of a sort is often good for the soul, but the humiliation that comes to the man who is under too great obligation to another does him lasting harm.

PARACHUTES

Knowing when to use the parachute and how to use it with lightning speed may mean the difference between life and death to a flier. What we all need is a parachute, so to speak. We frequently take a great deal of credit for sticking to some things that we might better abandon. We stick to stock past the time when we ought to sell out. We stay by a job, and give ourselves credit for persistence, when the sensible thing would be to find another job. We too often define persistence, in our own minds, as persistence in finding the right thing or on one job. It may mean, properly, persistence in finding the right thing or the right place. And sometimes a parachute is better than persistence.

The Diary of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK, May 17.—Most visitors seem to have an exaggerated impression of the hectic life led by New Yorkers. They come here on a week's holiday and want to be taken to a show and night club every night. At the end they tell their New York acquaintances, "I don't see how you stand it—going all the time. I wouldn't live here for worlds. You haven't any home life in New York."

They don't realize that after every visit from out-of-town friends, New Yorkers often have to go to bed every night at 9 to recuperate in health and pocketbook. Out of the 7,500,000 persons in greater New York, probably 98 per cent lead lives as quiet and eventless as the inhabitants of Midway, Ky. In the evening there are the papers, the radio, or possibly a neighborhood movie, maybe a few games of cards, and then to bed. The night is kept alive by out-of-towners.

New York is the richest and gayest city in the world, but two-thirds of its families have incomes of less than $2,500 a year, and one-third below $1,500. Probably the average income in New York is less or no greater than the average income in Omaha. Youths with their eyes on New York should remember that.

New York is America's center, possibly the world's center, for the theater, the opera, styles in clothing, dealers in art, music, publishing houses and all of the production and distribution of the things to please the aesthetic senses. But the New Yorker, like the majority of the residents of every other city, must spend most of his day in labor, and from his earnings he has only rarely (even when he has the time and energy) enough left over to satisfy all his desires for culture and entertainment. When he goes to the theater or to the concert it is almost as much of an unusual occasion to him as it is to the rural visitor who saves up for a holiday in the nearest large town.

I am always annoyed to find drawn shades in the windows of large Fifth Avenue shops on Sundays and holidays. Why shouldn't the stores want persons to look at window displays on Sunday?

I would also like to know why one of the biggest department stores, Altman's, has no sign or lettering anywhere indicating the name of the store. Tiffany's is similarly unlabeled.

Kellygrams

By FRED C. KELLY

Profiting From Courtesy
A surprising amount of harm may be done by even so slight a discourtesy as mere inattention on the part of an employee. I heard an angry woman notifying the floor walker in a big department store that she had waited three or four minutes to be served, and a girl, though not busy, had failed to notice her.

The floorwalker was unable to pacify the customer, and she never went to the store again. Before that her trade had amounted to more than one thousand dollars a year.

I know of a department store that is believed to be financially on the ragged edge though it was once about the most prosperous institution of its kind in the city where it is located. And I believe I could put my finger right on the main contributing cause of its loss of popularity. It has just as good a line of merchandise as could be found anywhere, and the prices are reasonable. But if you buy a rug, a chair, or an alarm clock at that store, and after taking it home decide you wish to exchange it, you will meet an atmosphere of deep gloom on the part of those store employees who participate in the transaction. Mr. So-and-so, who before the charge for the returned goods is taken off the books. Everybody examines the goods critically, as if to say: "I don't know about this."

The customer says to himself, "I hope I don't have to go through all this monkey business soon again."

Other big stores in the same city are just as careful about making sure that things returned are in good condition, but they do it in a half-fellow, offhand way that makes the customer feel as if he is causing nobody any trouble whatsoever.

Years ago the big telephone companies replaced the conventional "Hello" of the central operator with the more polite phrase, "Number please." More recently they discovered that the word "please" repeated several million times a year delayed messages and really cost a lot of money. Operators now inquire merely, "Number?" But they are under rigid instructions to say the word with a rising inflection on the second syllable, which gives a cheerful chirper sound to the inquiry, whereas the word with a falling inflection at the last makes it sound as if the operator is somewhat bored with her job.

Moreover, the big telephone companies, in hiring a girl, do not consider the beauty of her face or figure, as most of us would if engaging a stenographer, but insist that she must have a pretty voice. A retail concern with more than one thousand stores over the country insists upon its salesmen acknowledging every purchase, no matter how small, with a "Thank

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Consideration for Others Is the Better Part of Beauty

There are certain Cardinal Sins in the social calendar. Sins not only disastrous but inexcusable, since they come either of thoughtlessness, selfishness or malice. Perhaps the first of these is tactlessness. Close after that comes ungraciousness and then practical joking.

I need not tell you that no hostess could have success in possessing in even the slightest degree any of all of these most unpleasant traits, and under the general heading, "Lack of Consideration," they and many other like failings may be classified.

Each of them has its own bad effect on Beauty. How could it be otherwise? Perhaps for a little while, Beauty persists in the face of an unlovely character, but not for long. Each unkind action leaves its mark on your face, until, in a little time, Beauty has gone, never to be recovered.

I have spoken of Tactlessness. Have you ever met the woman who admits with a queer, perverted pride that "she always says the wrong thing at the wrong time?"

I have met many of her type and regretted that all you have perhaps heard her explain that "she really is harmless," "doesn't mean a word she says," or even that "she is so honest that she cannot help being frank." Or perhaps she masks her unkindness under the pretense, "I am telling you this for your own good."

Such women distress me. I wonder if they deliberately shut their eyes to the harm they do, or if they simply do not care. If they are not harmless, I know. They are to blame for hundreds of inferiority complexes, for misery, heart-aches and dissatisfaction. And ten years is the limit of their careers of social success. For after awhile the world shuts its eyes to such a woman, and its homes too, and soon she is alone, and embittered. And who is the fault? No one of us is so perfect that she can afford to have a merciless eye, and a blunt tongue turned on every thought, word or action.

And the woman who sponsors the ugly, malicious instinct in herself is building up a lonely, unhappy future. Through her lack of Consideration for the rights, the feelings, the happiness of others, she is feeding the monster of selfishness, and selfishness is a Frankenstein which finally destroys its creator!

Suppose Marcia's new hat is a fright? What of it? She cannot exchange it now. She has spent her money unwisely, perhaps, but it's gone, can you not let her be happy in her purchase?

Suppose Mother's new dress is too youthful. It only matches her spirit, and if she can feel that young, why, let her proclaim it, by all means.

After all, the very best you can offer is a personal opinion and why, please, should your opinion be infallible, and everyone else's wrong?

Ungraciousness is another social offense. It is a very simple and very beautiful thing to be hospitable, and hospitality lends an aura of charm to the woman who practices it. What does it consist of? No more than the will and the effort to make someone else comfortable. We might do well to follow the Eastern World and feel that the stranger within the gates is sacred to us.

The customs of hospitality are very charming. One very old one, practiced to this day in many homes, is to set an extra place at each meal for the wanderer who may stop by and be weary and footsore and hungry.

Not so it alone in the eyes of the stranger that the matron of the house is beautiful. For every kind thing you do is reflected in your face, your carriage and your bearing. Hospitality need not always mean the giving of the substance. You can give yourself, you know, your service and your kindness, for these are the lasting gifts, the most welcome of all.

Practical joking is a thing no well-mannered woman would stoop to. It is bad enough to hurt another person through thoughtlessness or lack of tact, but it is impardonable to do it willfully.

All of these faults are held through lack of consideration. All of them have their effects upon your physical being, for, although it is true enough to tell you that "Beauty is as Beauty does"—nothing could be more truthful or more correct.

CANDY

A short time ago, I wrote my opinion of candy, at the request of one of the readers. The gist of the article was as follows:

You. Come again, or something like that. No matter what a customer does, this company insists that he must not be insulted. He must never leave one of their stores with the slightest feeling of resentment, even though he himself may have been at fault.

For example, salesmen have special instructions in case of receiving counterfeit money. If a customer presents a lead quarter, the salesman must not chide him for doing so, but must offer sympathy, telling him that there is a lot of counterfeit money in circulation lately and that he evidently has been imposed upon by somebody. The theory is that it is better to let a guilty counterfeit escape than to take a chance on making an enemy of an innocent customer.

(I have capitalized a few of the phrases this time).

Candy is so apt to engender the sugar habit. For children and adults who can be content with a small amount, say as part of the dessert, or even between meals, IT IS ALLRIGHT. Candies made of nuts, dried fruits, honey and molasses are not only good energy foods, but they do contain protein and some mineral elements. Candies that are made wholly of white sugar contain nothing but fuel value.

Unfortunately, those who like candy the most are the one who need it the least. Excess candy eating, with excess other sweets and bread, is probably responsible for more overweight than anything else, and overweight is frequently the forerunner of diabetes, kidney disease, stomach trouble and other troubles no end.

It is estimated that over $500,000,000 was spent for candy in 1924 (McCullum). If this were spent only by those who need extra energy food—physical workers, not

One-fourth pound figs, one-fourth pound seeded raisins, one-half cup water, one-third cup sugar. Shop figs and raisins. Cook in the water until the figs are tender. Add sugar and cook slowly until it thickens. Cool before using. Put between layers of cake. Frost top with white icing.

Fruit Cookies—One cup sugar, one-half cup shortening, one egg, one cup sour milk, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon lemon extract, five cups sifted pastry flour, one teaspoon salt. Cream the sugar with fat, add the egg well beaten, the sour milk and soda, the lemon flavoring, the flour and the salt. The dough should be thick enough to roll very thin. Cut in rounds and between each two put a teaspoon of the following filling: one-half cup chopped fruits (figs and raisins), one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons sugar, one-half cup water. Cook these ingredients together until thick. Bake cookies in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for ten or fifteen minutes.

The sedentary, and children who get their needs for proper growth foods first—IT WOULD BE ALLRIGHT; but was it? It wasn't. Most of the candy is consumed by those who do not need it and are actually injured by it.

Now here is my position: IF CANDY CAN OCCUPY ITS RIGHT POSITION IN THE DIET, IT IS GOOD, but if it doesn't we'll have to condemn it. Personally, I wish there never was such a thing invented.

As soon as this article appeared, the National Confectioners Association and Retail Candy Merchants began jumping on me and the editor. They wrote that the article was extremely unfair to the candy industry, and it was not based upon facts but upon personal prejudice and was one of the worst they had seen for a long time. So I feel it my duty to write again on candy.

Oh, I see the space I want to allot to this subject is almost used up, so I can't do it. Just re-read this article and you have it exactly.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Freddie Steiwer, Al Barkley, Sammy Bratton and Billy McMaster belong in the senate's old enough to know better, but infant class. Porter H. Dale's he doesn't act like it.

All, including Porter H., are "junior senators"—in itself significant of official immaturity. As the senate reckons years, Dale alone can be considered grown up, and he's only 61—mere early manhood for the upper house of congress. Of the others, the oldest's barely past the half century mark—just the bad boy stage. And Sammy Bratton! 40!—he's a baby senatorially.

It's doubtful whether the more conservative souls would give any testimonials to Freddie and Sammy, Billy and Al even as thoroughly well behaved kids.

Freddie, Sammy and Al aren't downright incorrigibles. Like young Bob LaFollette and Burt Wheeler. Yet they're three pretty independent young squirts. Freddie has strained G. O. P. discipline severely several times. Sammy and Al have worried Aunty Democracy a good deal. They're mischievous, to say the least.

Billy's worse. More than once he's thumbed his nose at party authority openly, and threatened to join the Progressive Gang out and out.

Such is the crew of irresponsible young hoodlums that Vice President Dawes saw fit to appoint of a committee to watch this year's national campaign expenses.

Of course they did something terrible the first thing.

Similar committees in the past have decorously and respectfully questioned campaign managers, chairmen, secretaries, treasurers and such.

Who ever heard of summoning the presidential candidates themselves to appear?—and he put personally on the pan, for a bunch of irreverent boy senators to fry all sorts of information out!

But that's what we're looking at now while the committee chortles in its glee, too, at its work.

Mind you—It's none too dignified for a big statesman, of sufficient proportions to aspire to the presidency of the United States, in effect to have a halflit tap him on the shoulder and beckon him, like a common malefactor, to come along to headquarters and give an account of himself.

The thing's general tendency is to take a presidential candidacy down a peg.

It's all very well to say that Vice President Dawes shouldn't have named such a crowd of cut-ups for so ticklish a job.

He couldn't choose senators who were candidates themselves—or else too deep in their friends' candidacies to be unprejudiced. And that's what they all were—all except a few "freshies" like Fred and Billy, Al and Sam—yes, and excepting also Porter H. Dale, who doesn't care a hoot who gets the presidency if Coolidge won't run.

Dawes simply took what he could get, and Dale being available, threw him in for ballast, hoping he'd keep the committee on an even keel.

Normally Dale's a staid, sedate old Vermont.

He isn't doing any kicking at this performance, though. Can it be that he's gone on the rampage with the rest of the company he's in? Or is he so disappointed because Coolidge won't be drafted that he just doesn't care?

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

BETWEEN TWO LOVES

What is a man to do who loves two women—wife and mother—and the two can't agree? Should he defend his wife against his mother or his mother against his wife, or should he be neutral? A wife writes me that her husband will not try to get his mother to treat her right, and "why wouldn't he want his wife and mother to be friends?"

"Dear Mrs. Virginia Lee: I have a peculiar problem and have been through very many hardships, and now how to treat people right and how I should be treated. What do you think of a man that won't use his influence with his mother to make her treat me right? I have been a true wife to him, as both he and his mother know, but she simply treats me so mean, by snubbing and slurring me to my face and talking about me behind my back that I can't stand it. We haven't spoken for over two years. He frankly says his mother will do anything he wants her to, and I know it to be a fact, but when I ask him why he doesn't get her to treat me right so that we can at least be on friendly speaking terms, he has nothing to say. What would be your opinion of why a man wouldn't want his wife and mother to be friends?"

"G. E. M." Isn't it just possible, G. E. M., that your husband thinks it would do no good for him to interfere? Put yourself in his place. What would or could you do if it was your mother and husband that could not get along? Loving both or doing, perhaps, that both are a bit too lame, would you be able to "make" either do what you wanted them to? Suppose you simply make up your mind that you will be the one to make up with your mother-in-law. You never get anywhere by being unfriendly, do you? It's simply a waste. Now what can you do to her, no matter what she says or does. Stop feeling abused and be sorry for her when she says or does mean things. Do or say something nice when she is mean. Just try it and let me know the results.

THE IRISH HAVE IT

Standing by the entrance of a large estate in the suburbs of Dublin are two huge dogs carved out of granite. An Englishman going by in a motor thought he would have some fun with the Irish driver. "How often do they feed those two big dogs?" "When they bark, sir," was the straightforward reply.

Peter's Adventure

By MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE BOBOLINKS BOAST

Mr. and Mrs. Bobolink were so proud of their home that although they were really very modest birds indeed they could not help bragging a little to the boy of their good fortune.

"If I were living in a tree could compare with making one's home upon the soft cool earth," chirped Bobolink. "No breeze to blow one's house from a branch. No squirrels to poke their sharp noses into one's very door. No danger of the babies falling to the ground and breaking their little wings. No, indeed. The earth for the Bobolinks every time!"

"Why, we are snug as bugs in a rug down here in the meadow. We wouldn't exchange our homestead in the clover for the handiest nest in the leafiest tree," added Mrs. Bobolink.

"But aren't you afraid of snakes or cats or that some one will step upon you?" questioned the boy. For a moment Mrs. Bobolink looked worried.

"Well, of course, Peter," said she, rather sadly. "Clearly her husband interrupted her."

"To be sure, but then, accidents will happen in the best regulated bird families, you know, my dear. Now, don't start worrying. You will get yourself all upset and you must keep in good condition if you want to brood and hatch out a healthy lot of nestlings, you know."

"It is no joke to sit all day on eggs, let me tell you," continued Bobolink, turning to the boy, "and it wouldn't do at all for my dear wife to sit and think that she might be bitten or stung or stepped upon every minute. It would make her too nervous."

"Of course," said Peter, hastily. "I know something about it. As you say, the birds in the tree are not altogether safe. And it certainly is lovely down here. The clovers smell so sweet, the air is so fresh and cool, your home is so cozy, and how well those clovers shade it!"

"I hope they will stay that way, but sometimes the wind blows them apart and then the sun beats down upon my head and if any one should be passing he would certainly see me. I had quite a hard time of it matting them together like that," remarked Bobolink.

"Rather a queer stalks," remarked Peter, added hurriedly, "but a very nice one. Don't the rain come through?"

"Nothing to speak of," replied Bobolink.

"OF COURSE," SAID THE BOY, "I'M SORRY I SPOKE."

Bobolink cheerfully. "Sniff! Sniff! My, but that air certainly does smell good. We have been restless for this odor for many days. For nights we have dreamed of going to sleep among the clovers. We just couldn't stand it any longer, we got so homesick for the old meadow that we left in the middle of the night. My, but I am glad we are home again!"

Central High 1928 - 29 Court Sked Arranged

BOOK ELEVEN TILTS FOR COACH WILSON'S QUINTET NEXT YEAR

League Champs Drop Springfield; Will Play Washington

The 1928-29 basketball schedule for Xenia Central High School, as announced Thursday by E. G. Whitworth, faculty manager, calls for eleven games during the season of which six will be played at home and five on strange courts.

The Blue and White quintet opens its season at home against Wilmington High School December 21, the only game scheduled preceding the Christmas holidays. The schedule shows that the high school's last three games will be played away, the final game being at Piqua High School February 21, 1929.

Xenia, which won the first basketball championship to be awarded in the new Miami Valley League last season, will defend this title next season in five league games, only two of which will be played here.

League games at home are against Sidney and Miamisburg. The Troy, Greenville and Piqua games are away.

Xenia's home games are with Wilmington, East High School of Columbus, Sidney, Miamisburg, University of Dayton Preps and Washington C. H. in the order named.

One new team, Washington C. H., appears on next season's chart. For the first time in a number of years Springfield High School will not be played in basketball.

The complete schedule follows: December 21—Wilmington here. January 5—East High (Columbus) here. January 11—Sidney here. January 18—Troy away. January 25—Miamisburg here. February 1—Midtown away. February 2—Dayton Preps here. February 8—Washington C. H. here. February 9—Delaware away. February 15—Greenville away. February 21—Piqua away.

BUS OPERATOR IS ORDERED TO STOP BY OHIO INSPECTOR

Jefferson Powell, colored, Springfield, who hauls passengers between Springfield and Xenia, was notified to stop operating his hire over the public highways Thursday by Walter P. Petersen, Gettysburg, O., inspector of the department of motor transportation of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission. Powell, a one-legged man, was given until 6 o'clock Saturday night to cease operations because he does not possess a certificate from the utilities commission.

The practice of operating without a certificate is illegal and future cases called to the attention of the commission will be prosecuted, according to Inspector Petersen, who has been in Greene County this week investigating activities of truckers and bus operators.

A year ago no operators hauling for hire in Greene County had certificates, but now it is estimated fifteen certificates are held by Greene Countyans, according to the inspector.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?

A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day, and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

Reserves Play Dayton White Sox

Reserves will be striving for their fourth victory in a row this season in the game with the White Sox, a leading Dayton colored baseball team, Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

The White Sox dropped their first game of the season to the Grismer Coals 11 to 4 last Sunday.

The Reserve management discloses that Sam Tangeman, who played first for the local nine last season, will be back at his old post this Sunday. Barlow will be shifted to the outfield.

Addition of Tangeman will greatly strengthen the batting attack. Tangeman has been playing ball in a Southern league this spring. He hit better than .400 for the Reserves last year and also fields his position well. He will strengthen the inner works of the club.

Reserves anticipate a difficult game Sunday as the White Sox have been cleaning up everything in sight in and around Dayton.

Schliff will be on the mound for the Xenia team and will be trying for his fourth victory in as many starts. Dayton has a choice between Lester, Haines and H. Shoecraft for the pitching assignment.

The following starting lineup is announced for the White Sox: Werner, 3b; Staton, ss; Simmons, 1b; W. Shoecraft, rf; Perkins, lf; Eaton, c; Mitchner, cf; Williamson, 2b; Lester, Haines or H. Shoecraft, p.

Downey Pitches Firemen to Victory Over Central High

Behind the invincible hurrying of Downey, the Firemen ushered in the softball season in the National League with a 11 to 4 victory at the expense of the Xenia Central High School nine Wednesday night at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

Central High was practically helpless at bat after the first two innings. After yielding one run in the first inning and two in the second, Downey settled down and permitted the opposition only one run in the remaining seven rounds.

The Firemen actually won the game with a big rally in the third inning, in which five runs crossed the plate before the side could be retired.

Doak and Tull formed the battery for the high school.

Thursday night the champion Downtown Country Club team makes its debut against the Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity nine at 6 p. m. This is also a National League game.

Lineup of the Firemen: L. Cope, ss; J. Haller, 2b; I. Towles, 3b; Briley, cf; D. Davis, 1b; J. Cain, lf; W. Cope, rf; L. Downey, p; C. Cope, c.

Central High School lineup: Shaffer, cf; Bell, 2b; Doak, p; Gibney, lf; Smittle, 3b; Stevenson, c.

DAYTON FLYERS WIN FROM CEDARVILLE; ONE INNING ENOUGH

Big Seventh Stanza Beats "Yellow Jacket" Nine

For the second time in less than a week, the University of Dayton Flyers triumphed over the Cedarville College "Yellow-Jackets" 11 to 2 in a return baseball game on the Cedarville diamond Wednesday afternoon.

The Ohio Conference champions put together nine hits, seven bases on balls and three mis-plays in the field for their winning total.

Ad Westerlump, Dayton sophomore pitcher, turned in his third straight victory, limiting the "Yellow-Jackets" to five scattered hits in the eight innings he worked. He was nicked for one run.

"Shorty" Sharpenter pitched the last inning and was touched for one hit and one run.

Turner, on the mound for Cedarville, was breezing along smoothly until the seventh inning rolled around. In this round the Flyers broke out with a seven-run rally that decided the issue beyond all doubt. Dayton combined five hits, two walks and a sacrifice in this stanza.

Debesis, shortstop, was the leading hitter for Dayton. He obtained a single and triple. Duffey, Cedarville right fielder, hit safely twice, both singles.

Several days ago Dayton downed Cedarville 7 to 2. Box score.

"She had the trouble three years when my sister-in-law advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I purchased some and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Frank Strickland, 775 Eleanor St. N. ## BOOK ELEVEN TILTS FOR COACH WILSON'S QUINTET NEXT YEAR

League Champs Drop Springfield; Will Play Washington

The 1928-29 basketball schedule for Xenia Central High School, as announced Thursday by E. G. Whitworth, faculty manager, calls for eleven games during the season of which six will be played at home and five on strange courts.

The Blue and White quintet opens its season at home against Wilmington High School December 21, the only game scheduled preceding the Christmas holidays.

The schedule shows that the high school's last three games will be played away, the final game being at Piqua High School February 21, 1929.

Xenia, which won the first basketball championship to be awarded in the new Miami Valley League last season, will defend this title next season in five league games, only two of which will be played here.

League games at home are against Sidney and Miamisburg. The Troy, Greenville and Piqua games are away.

Xenia's home games are with Wilmington, East High School of Columbus, Sidney, Miamisburg, University of Dayton Preps and Washington C. H. in the order named.

One new team, Washington C. H., appears on next season's chart. For the first time in a number of years Springfield High School will not be played in basketball.

The complete schedule follows: December 21—Wilmington here, January 5—East High (Columbus) here.

January 11—Sidney here, January 18—Troy away, January 25—Miamisburg here, February 1—Middletown away, February 2—Dayton Preps here, February 8—Washington C. H. here.

February 9—Delaware away, February 15—Greenville away, February 21—Piqua away.

BUS OPERATOR IS ORDERED TO STOP BY OHIO INSPECTOR

Jefferson Powell, colored, Springfield, who hauls passengers between Springfield and Xenia, was notified to stop operating for hire over the public highways Thursday by Walter F. Peterseim, Gettysburg, O., inspector of the department of motor transportation of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

Powell, a one-legged man, was given until 6 o'clock Saturday night to cease operations because he does not possess a certificate from the utilities commission.

The practice of operating without a certificate is illegal and future cases called to the attention of the commission will be prosecuted, according to Inspector Peterseim, who has been in Greene County this week investigating activities of truckers and bus operators.

A year ago no operators hauling for hire in Greene County had certificates, but now it is estimated fifteen certificates are held by Greene County residents, according to the inspector.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?—A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day, and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the wrapper, you'll be sure to get the genuine. The thirty-cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

Reserves Play Dayton White Sox

Reserves will be striving for their fourth victory in a row this season in the game with the White Sox, a leading Dayton colored baseball team, Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

The White Sox dropped their first game of the season to the Grimsen Coals 11 to 4 last Sunday. The Reserve management discloses that Sam Tangeman, who played first for the local nine last season, will be back at his old post this Sunday. Barlow will be shifted to the outfield.

Addition of Tangeman will greatly strengthen the batting attack. Tangeman has been playing ball in a Southern league this spring. He hit better than .400 for the Reserves last year and also fields his position well. He will strengthen the inner works of the club.

Reserves anticipate a difficult game Sunday as the White Sox have been cleaning up everything in sight in and around Dayton. Schliff will be on the mound for the Xenia team and will be trying for his fourth victory in as many starts. Dayton has a choice between Lester, Haines and H. Shoecraft for the pitching assignment.

The following starting lineup is announced for the White Sox: Werner, 3b; Staton, ss; Simmons, 1b; W. Shoecraft, rf; Perkins, lf; Eaton, c; Mitchell, cf; Williamson, 2b; Lester, Haines or H. Shoecraft, p.

DOWNNEY PITCHES FIREMEN TO VICTORY OVER CENTRAL HIGH

Behind the invincible hurling of Downey, the Firemen ushered in the softball season in the National League with a 11 to 4 victory at the expense of the Xenia Central High School nine Wednesday night at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

Central High was practically helpless at bat after the first two innings. After yielding one run in the first inning and two in the second, Downey settled down and permitted the opposition only one run in the remaining seven rounds.

The Firemen actually won the game with a big rally in the third inning, in which five runs crossed the plate before the side could be retired.

Doak and Tull formed the battery for the high school.

Thursday night the champion Downtown Country Club team makes its debut against the Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity nine at 6 p. m. This is also a National League game.

Lineup of the Firemen: L. Cope, ss; J. Haller, 2b; L. Towles, 3b; Briley, cf; L. Davis, 1b; J. Cain, lf; W. Cope, rf; L. Downey, p; C. Cope, c.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR W. G. PICKREL TO ADDRESS MASONS

Prominent Mason To Be Masonic Club Guest May 24.

Masons of Greene County will hear an address by William G. Pickrel, Dayton, O., lieutenant governor of Ohio, when the Greene County Masonic Club meets Thursday night, May 24, at the Masonic Temple for a dinner and program of entertainment.

Mr. Pickrel's talk will be along "Brotherhood" lines as he has been active in many efforts that have aimed at community betterment.

In Dayton's last Community Chest drive, Mr. Pickrel, acting as chairman, made one of the outstanding successes of such drives in the state, and obtained a subscription far in excess of the quota set.

He is a staunch believer in the spirit that prompts noon-time club meetings, community organizations, lodge and church gatherings and has appeared recently in several other cities.

Mr. Pickrel is well known in the Masonic fraternity and, besides being a Shriner and a thirty-second degree Mason, has the unusual distinction of being a law partner of Charles D. Heald, a thirty-third degree Mason, and also was a partner of the late Edward Burkhardt, who, until his death, was the most prominent promoter of the plan which gave Dayton its magnificent new Masonic Temple, dedicated a few weeks ago.

The address will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. The meeting will be open to Masons only.

AUTHORIZE BOND ISSUE TO PAY COUNTY'S SHARE OF ROAD COST

A single county bond issue for $105,000, covering Greene County's share in the expense of the proposed improvement of the Xenia-Fairfield road, was authorized by County Commissioners Wednesday. The pike will be improved a distance of 5.63 miles in Xenia and Bath Twp., at a total estimated cost of $210,000.

Of this total cost, $31,283.35 is for bridges and culverts, leaving a total of $178,716.65. The state's share of the cost is also $105,000.

Commissioners determined that 10 per cent of the county's expense, except for bridges and culverts, will be apportioned to Xenia and Bath Twp. The amount to be paid by each township will be according to the number of lineal feet of the improvement in each township.

On this basis, it is estimated that Xenia Twp. will pay $9,766.91 and Bath Twp., $8,104.75.

Five per cent of the expense will be assessed against real estate extending for one mile on both sides of the road, land that will be benefited by the improvement. However, the total amount assessed must not exceed 20 per cent of the valuation of the benefited property in each case, commissioners decided.

It is therefore estimated that the total assessment against benefited property owners in Xenia Twp. will be $4,883.45, and against land owners in Bath Twp., $4,052.38. This would leave $78,192.50 or 35 per cent, as Greene County's share of the expense.

County Auditor R. O. Wead has estimated the life of the improvement at ten years and also estimates that the tax on the new bond issue will appear on the tax duplicate for the first time for the tax year of 1929.

It is believed that the first tax installment against benefited property will be obtained not later than February 15, 1929.

All of the bonds will be of $1,000 denomination and will be numbered one to 105, inclusive.

County Commissioners adopted a resolution directing that the bonds be offered for purchase first to the Board of Trustees of the Interest and Sinking Fund.

MEMORY TREES IN PARK ARE DAMAGED

The Shawnee Park Board is offering a reward of $25 to any one giving a clue leading to the arrest and conviction of parties who are destroying the "memory trees" in the park.

Several of the trees have been broken off and damaged by children swinging on the branches and several of the tags marking the trees have been destroyed. Park patrons are urged to keep on the lookout for persons damaging the property.

GOVERNMENT SENDS MANY PRISONERS TO COUNTY JAIL HERE

Population of the Greene County Jail is expected to be increased by five within the next few days with arrival of a number of federal prisoners sentenced here by Judge Smith Hickenlooper in the United States District Court, Dayton.

Two federal prisoners were delivered to Sheriff Ohmer Tate Tuesday.

Carl Pine, charged with a second offense for possessing liquor, was sentenced to sixty days in the Greene County Jail. He was warned by the court that his next appearance in federal court will mean a term in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.

Raymond Wentz, who had previously served a sixty-day sentence, indicted with three others in the famous "101 Ranch" case, was sentenced to serve six months in the local jail, and to pay a fine of $200 before gaining his liberty.

Clarence Wentz, a brother, appearing in federal court for the first time, was given the same sentence. Delbert Giehl, the fourth man indicted in the same case, received a three-month term in the Greene County Jail.

Lisle Moore, charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act, pleaded guilty to the indictment, and was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $100 and to serve sixty days in the Greene County Jail.

He was granted a week's stay of execution to permit him to settle his affairs before starting to serve the term.

CASE DISMISSED

On motion of Prosecutor J. C. Marshall, an affidavit charging Joseph Foley, 53, this city, with possessing liquor, was dismissed by Probate Judge S. C. Wright Wednesday. Foley was discharged from custody.

He was arrested last Saturday in a raid on S. King St., but pleaded not guilty. His hearing had been set for Friday.

A buying preference of enormous proportions lifts the Essex Super-Six far above the crossfire of competitive claims. It is the public itself which says the finest things for Essex.

It is outselling all other "Sixes"—in many sections by more than 2 to 1. And, with slight variations, this preference is the nation's and the world's.

The new Essex Super-Six is a delight to the eye—in lines, in fine exterior appointment and in careful finish that invites and repays the closest examination.

Within, this satisfaction to eye and sense is apparent in every detail. The quality of the high-backed, form-fitting seats—richly upholstered—impresses you immediately. At the slender, graceful wheel, you look out over the shining beauty of cowl, hood, saddle-type lamps, heavy, arching fenders, to the winged radiator figure that expresses the spirit and fleetness under your hand.

You have before you the handsome grouping of dials and meters upon the beautiful ebony instrument board.

Starter and electro-lock are there to your hand, too. Bendix four-wheel brakes give smooth positive stopping action and an added sense of greater security. All doors are weatherstripped. The body is of silenced construction, adding to the notably quiet operation of Essex.

And then you have the famous Essex chassis, powered with the Super-Six high-compression, high efficiency motor that turns waste heat to power, giving brilliant sustained performance never before known in this field.

To see, to examine, to ride in the New Essex Super-Six can bring only one conclusion—it is the World's Greatest Value—altogether or part by part.

"CORN FED" FRENCH GIRL REPRESENTS PARIS AT GALVESTON

By ALICE LANGELEIR
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 17.—"La Petite Française" is no more—if the decision of the eighteen judges who chose "Miss France" to represent the French nation at the International Beauty Contest of Galveston, Texas, counts for anything.

France is staking her chances to win on Mademoiselle Raymonde Allain, just sweet sixteen, but big and strapping, a modern version of Juno—what onlookers at Galveston will probably call a real "cornfed baby." A far cry from anything one could call "petite" she is a real Parisienne just the same, born of Parisian parents in the heart of the old city where she has lived all her short life, save for a brief period in New York.

"I'm tickled to death to think I am going back there again," said Mademoiselle Raymonde after the election. "It almost seems like going home to me. I was only a small child, but I remember everything and how I used to speak English. Now I don't know a word of it, but I hope to pick it up again quickly."

May Stay in U. S.
"I may stay over there for some time, if my dreams come true. They say 'all roads lead to Rome' but I want the one that goes straight to Hollywood. I've always been wild to go into the movies and I hope now that I have the chance."

Long hair is one of the most distinguishing features of the "most beautiful girl in France." And it is not raven-black, as most every American expects to find on most every French girl, but brown, and she wears it in two braids twisted over her ears. And it is very often on growing. She is not the thin-willowy type, but is well-billed out and of healthy proportions. Her face is of classical beauty, a fair skin tinged with olive. Blue-grey eyes, almond shape, are set deep in the head beneath a thin pencil-line of arched eyebrows which, together with her deep, mellow voice, very often make her seem like twenty-five instead of sweet sixteen.

"You see, I never dreamed of entering the contest until a few days before the close of the entries. A Russian sculptor, for whom I have been posing, suggested it to me and I just thought I'd try my luck, for the fun of it. I didn't see any chance of winning, though, for there are so many pretty girls in France."

Her Ancestry
"I come from a long line of French lawyers and have done just about what every French girl of my age has done, studied music, painting and classical literature."

"I swim and play tennis in the summer, I love to read novels and I simply adore the movies—American ones of course."

Mademoiselle Allain stands five feet six inches in her stocking feet and still has several years to keep mussed up, for Mademoiselle is only a big, overgrown girl, a healthy, athletic type and likes to run and play games with her younger brother.

"I could scarcely believe the decision of the judges," Miss France confided to International News Service afterward, "and do you know, I really wasn't sure of it until you came to tell me it was true."

"Size had nothing to do with it," said the judges, when it was suggested that Frenchmen seem to be getting away from beauty in small editions. "We elected Mademoiselle Allain because we found her to be the most beautiful of all the three hundred girls who entered the contest and the best one to represent France on the other side of the water."

SPRING VALLEY

Mrs. T. M. Scarff entertained the W. C. T. U. at her home Thursday afternoon, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Mendenhall. Mrs. Wittenmyer, the county health nurse, was present and gave a very interesting and instructive talk. Mrs. Scarff and Mrs. Collins sang a duet. Plans for the County Institute to be held May 22 in the Methodist Church, were discussed.

Mrs. M. W. Mendenhall is suffering from a severe attack of grip.

The baccalaureate sermon for the High School seniors was preached by Rev. McElree, of Xenia, Sabbath evening at the High School auditorium.

STUDEBAKER'S $795 ERSKINE SIX

Sets Ten New Records by Traveling 1000 miles in 984 minutes

proving ITS CHAMPIONSHIP STUDEBAKER HERITAGE

ON April 26, two strictly stock Erskine Club Sedans—exactly like those you can purchase from any Studebaker dealer—each traveled 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes.

The run took place at Atlantic City Speedway, and was supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association who verified the stock design of the cars.

As a result, ten new records for stock cars under $1000 were established by the Erskine Six. And Studebaker has demonstrated that its 76-year-old traditions for careful building are carried through in the design, materials and workmanship of this low-priced fine car named for Albert Russel Erskine, Studebaker's president.

Although sold at the lowest price at which any Studebaker-built car was ever offered ($795 f. o. b. factory), Studebaker has not permitted any compromise in the materials or workmanship entering into the Erskine Six. That is why this car was able to travel 1000 miles at better than a mile a minute—why you can drive your Erskine Six 40 miles an hour even when NEW—why the Erskine is so economical to maintain and to operate.

A few minutes behind the wheel of the New Erskine Six will introduce you to a type of performance as sensational for its price class as that of the World's Champion Commander is to the field of higher priced cars.

"Little Theater" Movement Effects Organization; Hear Urbana Speaker

Miss Alice Foley Is Made President Of Drama Group

Dr. T. T. Brand, Urbana, president and director of the Urbana Community Players, fired Xenians who are interested in the "Little Theater" movement here with new zeal when he delivered a splendid lecture on the formation of the Urbana organization and the requirements for such a body, in the assembly room of the Court House, Wednesday night.

The meeting, including about fifty Xenians interested in the movement, was similar in size and interest to that held in Urbana seven years ago, when the nucleus of the Urbana Community Players was formed, Dr. Brand said.

"In the formation of a theater organization, there are two factors to be considered," the speaker said. "One is the artistic and the other the practical. One is as important as the other.

"In our zeal for the artistic we forget the practical, oftentimes. The 'Little Theater' is the same in its requirements and stock as that of the mercantile establishment to its customers. For this reason you must be careful of your organization. Seven years ago, we started with thirty-five members in Urbana. This group included every type—the intellectuals who loved literature and the higher form of art; those that deplored the mire into which the modern stage has sunk; those who felt the urge to tread the 'boards' after a few experiences; those who naturally loved the theater and others who added their interest out of civic pride.

"Such an organization must be diversified. We have made our meetings, from the start, open to all members. The Urbana Community Players is not formed for the benefit of a certain clique. All of its rehearsals are open and all who attend go to obtain experience.

"As a result of The Players' organization, three towns in the county have formed dramatic groups, the schools have increased the work in dramatics and there is a general increased interest in the work."

Dr. Brand described the functions of the various committees and branches of the Community Players, including the workshops where the scenery and "props" are made and stored, the costuming and other details of the craft.

"The success of the venture depends on the efficiency of the management and your selling ability on your performances, which are your stock in trade," he told the Xenians. "Please your customers, but realize that no entire audience will like the same thing.

You are bound to make mistakes, but cater to all classes and offend none. Cling to the decent, clean and wholesome. The theater does not have to be vulgar and profane to be popular. Don't play over the heads of anyone."

The Urbana organization has no sustaining members or patrons and is entirely self-supporting, the speaker said. At the first performance seven years ago, cards were distributed in the audience for prospective members to sign and 200 were obtained. A historical pageant, "The Torch" was next presented which resulted in one-fifth of the Urbana population joining the Players. Seven hundred were obtained the second year and after a drive the third year, 1,263 were enlisted. Because the theater held only 900 the membership had to be closed.

The janitor is the only one who is paid for his services for the Players. All others donate their work, because they like it and through civic pride. New stage designs are built and painted for each performance. Four to six weeks are taken for rehearsal, with about seven productions a year and a summer rest.

"It takes determination, self-sacrifice, control but it benefits yourself and the community. You all have a common interest, it sheds a ray of light on the arts, and is a rendezvous for lovers of the craft.

A permanent organization was affected, following Dr. Brand's address. Officers elected were: president, Miss Alice Foley; four vice presidents, Mrs. Lawrence Shields, Harry A. Higgins, Miss Jean B. Elwell and R. O. Wead; secretary, Miss Elsie Canby; treasurer, M. L. Wolf.

It was decided to conduct a contest to obtain a suitable name for the "little theater" organization. The person submitting the most appropriate name will be given a year's membership in the organization. The officers will act as judges and names may be submitted within the next two weeks to any of the officers.

Membership fees in the organization will be two dollars a year. By joining the organization, this does not mean that everyone will be expected to act, but varied interest and talents will be employed in addition to the general moral support. Members are entitled to admission to the several performances to be given each season.

Weather permitting, Troop No. 45, Boy Scouts of America will hold its weekly meeting at the Scout Cabin Friday night. The meeting will be held in the new council ring at the rear of the Scout reservation.

Each patrol leader should make certain of a full attendance, according to Scoutmaster Ernest Blackburn.

Farm Notes

WOOL OPPORTUNITY

Ohio farmers have the best opportunity to build a profitable sheep and wool industry that they ever had and greater opportunity than farmers of any other country. This was the parting word of J. F. Walker, secretary of the Ohio Wool Growers Association.

Mr. Walker has spent the past two months working with wool growers and farm bureaus of the state in the interests of co-operative wool marketing. He returned to Washington, D. C., to complete the report of his eight months' trip through wool producing territory of Australia, Africa and Europe which he made as investigator for the United States Department of Agriculture.

Wool growers of Australia, South Africa, and Europe are all receiving higher prices for wool than growers of the United States, according to Mr. Walker's statement, a report of which has been sent to the Greene County Farm Bureau. In all these countries, he says, growers have organized to prepare their wools in the best shape for marketing, and have handled the sale of their wools through these organizations.

Handicaps to sheep and wool production are greater in this territory than they are in Ohio, Mr. Walker says. Growers receive greater returns in spite of the fact that they are selling in an open market, where farmers of this country have the benefit of tariff protection, he says.

Responsibility for development of the wool industry and the wool market lies entirely with growers, Mr. Walker believes.

"Little Theater" Movement Effects Organization; Hear Urbana Speaker

Miss Alice Foley Is Made President Of Drama Group

Dr. T. T. Brand, Urbana, president and director of the Urbana Community Players, fired Xenians who are interested in the "Little Theater" movement here with new zeal when he delivered a splendid lecture on the formation of the Urbana organization and the requirements for such a body, in the assembly room of the Court House, Wednesday night.

The meeting, including about fifty Xenians interested in the movement, was similar in size and interest to that held in Urbana seven years ago, when the nucleus of the Urbana Community Players, was formed, Dr. Brand said.

PARK AUDITORIUM PLANNED FOR POPULAR CHORD AMONG XENIANS

Enthusiastic response greeted the announcement yesterday that the Greene County Home-Coming Committee proposes erection of a permanent auditorium in Shawnee Park.

Need for such a structure has been emphasized in the conversation of civic-minded citizens for many months and the building program projected by the committee is expected to exert a popular appeal in the campaign for funds to finance the Home-Coming.

When all expenses of the successful 1928 Home-Coming have been paid, the remaining treasury sufficient surplus to finance the erection of the present boulevard lamps around the Court House. This year's Home-Coming organization proposes to make its permanent gift to the city before the occasion takes place.

The plan for the auditorium, which will be a permanent structure, is planned at present but may be added later. The building will include the shelter house features for which a fund has already been created.

The suggestion that Xenia stage its own chautauque every year, using the new auditorium for the purpose, is being entertained by many people interested in the project. It is pointed out that many cities of similar size conduct chautauques annually instead of having the expense of owning a chautauque and lyceum organization.

Xenians who believe the project is feasible say talent comparable to that brought here annually by the Redpath Co. could be obtained just as well by a common plan, and the profits could be used to finance upkeep and improvements on Shawnee Park.

What price gags? Did you ever stop to figure out where all the funny situations come from that are used in a comedy picture?

The answer is one of the biggest problems facing the comedy producers for nothing leaves a movie audience so dead as an ancient wheeze and nothing goes over quite so big as a really new and amusing situation.

They call them "gag men" out in Hollywood—the men who think up the funny situations in the movie comedies. These men are used to introduce what is known as comedy relief in the heavier pictures but in straight comedies the plot is forgotten and the entire picture is built around the gags.

They call them "gag men" but they seem to please the audiences here. All that part about George's prowess at fisticuffs wasn't play-acting either as O'Brien has quite a reputation with his fists.

BRITISH BANK WILL BE HEART BREAKER FOR SAFE CRACKERS

LONDON, May 17.—The newly built Bank of England reconstructed at a cost of $25,000,000 will be the "heartbreak house for crackers."

Pressure on one button will flood the bank; doors will weigh eight tons, and yet a child could move them; and there will be miles of electric alarm wires.

While the business of the bank has been carried on as usual for the past three years, fifty vaults have been made surrounded by thick, fifty feet deep and eight feet thick. Such are the provisions for safety that it would take 100 cracksmen a year to get into the main vault—even if there were no guards or alarms.

The main vault lies fifty feet below the ground. It is a room sixty feet square, which ten tons of dynamite and modern oxy-acetylene apparatus could not penetrate.

Strong Guards
The entrance to the vaults is stationed in "bogie-holes" at various points of vantage, and so delicate are the alarms that a glove or pocket book dropped in a most unlikely spot would stir half a dozen electric bells into activity.

The first obstacle to be overcome in obtaining entrance to the vaults is the penetration of a wall of solid concrete fifty feet deep and eight feet thick, each large block "keyed" to the other. Beyond this great wall is a long dark winding passage and zigzagging down it every few yards are "alarm spots" connected with bells.

Then there is a double door of steel grilles—two-inch bars of the finest steel, two inches apart.

No key will open these defenses. They are worked electrically and the cracksmen who penetrated the fifty feet wall would find himself with a full day's work here. Even now the secret of the main vault remains intact. Here are two huge steel doors, riddled with keyholes—each door weighing eighteen tons. So finely balanced are these blocks of steel that a child could move them with ease. They respond to the touch of a little finger—when unlocked.

When the massive locks and bolts are shot home dynamite enough to wreck the whole building would have to be used in order to burst them.

Beyond is what is to be the treasure house of the nation, and the person who puts one foot inside it will immediately summon two detectives.

Tunnel Defense
The remaining forty-nine vaults are on the second and third floor. On the second floor has been constructed a defense that will strike terror into the heart of the most daring cracksmen. It is a small tunnel leading to a spot that only a dozen people know. It is a two-fold defense—against burglars and fire, for the pressure of a button inside the bank, at Scotland Yard—nearly three miles away—or at the house of the governor of the bank will send scores of tons of water hurtling through the gap to flood the vaults.

Miles of wire interlace the building, forming the most intricate alarm system in the world. Many new and secret devices which will not be used in any other building, have also been installed.

The bank is now the finest structure in the British Empire and is calculated to last 1,500 years.

HOW DO YOU DO?

Strangers interest me. They come into my office and talk. I meet them in the street, on the train, at the theater.

"How do you do?" says the stranger.

"How do you do?" say I.

And we begin to talk about the weather, the business in hand, or the amazing feats of the aviators. But I am thinking: What kind of stranger are you? Have you lived, perhaps? Have you been to far places, either bodily or in spirit? What do you think of when you are alone? What do you read?

A man sits in my office and tells me about a wonderful invention he has devised. It is a machine, and it works. People said it would work. Scientific men and professors of mathematics told him he was crazy when he started to work at his invention. It was mathematically impossible.

But this man worked on, quitting his profession and devoting his nights and days to experiments and figures. His success depended upon finding the correct ratio between the speed of a revolving drum and a constant pressure that was to be applied. It took years of labor and all his earnings.

I am impressed. I am speechless.

BRITISH BANK WILL BE HEART BREAKER FOR SAFE CRACKERS

LONDON, May 17.—The newly built Bank of England reconstructed at a cost of $25,000,000 will be the "heartbreak house for crackers."

Pressure on one button will flood the bank; doors will weigh eight tons, and yet a child could move them; and there will be miles of electric alarm wires.

While the business of the bank has been carried on as usual for the past three years, fifty vaults have been made surrounded by walls fifty feet deep and eight feet thick. Such are the provisions for safety that it would take ten cracksmen a year to get into the main vault—even if there were no guards or alarms.
